His Claim that the Course Was Changer Used to Bolster Up a Kick-His Defeat Without a Question or Doubt.

ORILLIA, Ont., July 24.-The Hanlon-Gaudaur championship boat race attracted a large crowd today. A stiff breeze made the course a little rough at the turn. Both men were in good condition. At the start Hanlon shot to the front like a flash, and soon led by a full length. Both men were rowing about thirty-four strokes to the minute. After the first half mile Gaudaur quickly overtook Hanlon and at the turn was leading by a full length, with Hanlon apparently out of it. He increased his lead until a quarter of a mile from the finish, when he stopped to wave a response to his cheering friends. He then made a magnificent spurt and crossed the line an easy winner by seven lengths in 19:53. Hanlon was twelve seconds behind and notified the stakeholders not to pay over the money, claiming that the course had been changed.

SPARKS OF SPORT.

Dixon a Two-to-One Favorite. HANLON STOPS PAYMENT OF THE STAKES NEW YORK, July 24.—The next fistic entertainment to be held before the Coney Island Athletic club is scheduled for August 7. The principal event of the evening will be a fight to a finish for a purse of $6,500 be tween George Dixon, the featherweight champion of the world, and Eddie Pierce, a local featherweight, who has but recently entered the professional pugilistic arena. In a recent fight with George Siddons he suc-ceeded in standing him off for forty rounds and would no doubt have defeated him but for the latter's tricky fighting and clever generalship. The men are hard at work training for the fight. The odds are at present in favor of Dixon at about 2 to 1, but it is believed that these will materially decrease before the day fixed for the fight are rives. The preliminary bout of the night will be a ten-round affair for $1,000 between Danny McBride and Tim Murphy, both New York pugilists of great cleverness.

Bemis Park Gun Club Plenie. The Bemis Park Gun club will give its first annual picnic on Tuesday, July 25. The club will furnish the conveyances and start will be made at 8:30 a. m. sharp from 1414 Farnam street, office of the Nebraska Fuel company. Each member will bring his gun and shells and such supplies as he has been requested to furnish. A meeting of the club will take place during the day to vote on the admission of several applicants and to take action on the amendment of the by-laws brought up at the last meeting in regard to the reduction of the initiation fee and to transact other business. This picnic is exclusively for members.

Eclipse of the Stars. The Swift Winchesters and the Sixteenth Street Stars crossed bats Sunday morning at 10 a. m. on the Cudahy Rex grounds. The Winchesters won by a score of 13 to 11. Batteries: Winchesters, Finney, Horn and Parker; Stars, Vodake and Shanahan. The feature of the game was the heavy batting and magnificent catching of Michael Barret. Next Sunday the Winchesters and Rangers will cross bats for the third time, each nine having won a game.

CONDITIONS ARE FAIRLY EASY

New York Bankers Taking a More Hopeful View of the Outlook.

LIGHT DEMANDS FOR ACCOMMODATION

Currency and Gota Being Shipped to the Country-The Wave of Unrest Sweeping Toward Onto-Philadelphia's Very Peculiar Situation.

NEW YORK, July 24 .- The banks reported the condition as fairly easy and, to some extent, better, inasmuch as the demands for accommodation were light. The most notable demands for assistance today were from Ohio. The calls for currency today were light. The subtreasury was debtor at the clearing house this morning only $118,000, and that sum was paid in notes. What caused the treasury officials to pay in notes today instead of gold, as they have done for the past week, could not be ascertained, but it was asserted the protest of the banks through the press against the inconvenient method of settling the clearing house balances in gold had caused them to see the absurdity of the practice. The indications today that a considerable amount of currency was being received from some sections of the country by the banks in this city is being offset by shipments to other places. One leading bank received $125,000 on Saturday. while its shipments were not nearly so much, but on the other hand there were some banks on Saturday that shipped a great deal of currency without any receipts to offset those shipments.

Heavy Shipments of Currency Expected. From the demands received today from Ohio and some other places for rediscounts, it is believed that the shipments of currency to those sections this week will be heavy In many instances during the last few days, gold has been shipped to the country in stead of currency, and more will probably be sent. The banks asking for the accom tion are providing themselves against runs as the wave of distrust sweeps over their

Speaking of the great number of western banks which closed on Saturday, the president of one of the largest national banks in the city said today that he believed that in the majority of cases they were not failures, but only suspensions; that they were per-fectly solvent and that they would resume business again in a few days stronger than ever.

New England's Situation. The situation in New England is attracting a great deal of attention now and especially in the manufactories. At the office of Watson & Gibson, 55 Broadway, it was said that some trade advices from Boston were to the effect that money was practically unlendable in that city at 6 per cent and stocks were being carried at 4 per cent. "I consider," said Mr. Gibat 4 per cent. "I consider," said Mr. Gib-son, "the situation as regards the New England factories the most serious factor in this market.' The failure of the Milwaukee bank on Saturday was very generally discussed in this city today. The failure was not unexpected by wide-awake bankers in this city, some of the most conservative of whom had been aware of its real condition for some time. One of these bankers said today that the report that the failure of the bank was due to the failure of the Schlessinger syndi-que was not true. This bank's failure, it was said, was due to having overloaned to soveral parties with which the Schlessinger syndicate had nothing to do.

At Phimdelphia. Several banks this morning reported their inability to make collections in Philadelphia or obtain payment of the large balances they have to their credit with some banks in that city. One bank here has between $500 000 and $600,000 in Philadelphia which it is unable to obtain without recourse to measures which would probably cause trouble to the banks referred to in that city. New York banks, as a rule, are now refusing to accept drafts from their customers on Philadelphia banks, except for collection at the depositor's risk. In some cases where merchants in this city have had drafts on Philadelphia they have sent them there by special messenger for special col-lection over the counter. This course, how-ever, involves trouble of identification, and when it has been adopted a liberal commis-sion has had to be paid for New York exchange currency not being obtainable. According to the reports to the comptroller, the Philadelphia national banks were as well supplied with cash on July 12 as were the national banks of this city. Those reports show that on that day the reserve of the national banks of Philadelphia amounted to 30.29 per cent of the deposits. It is a cause of some wonderment, therefore, why the Philadelphia banks should be so slow in making the remittances to this city.

SILVER PURCHASES.

Fifty Thousand Ounces Bought-Carlisle's Construction of the Sherman Law. WASHINGTON, July 24.-Acting Mint Director Preston this afternoon, in response to his counter offer, purchased 50,000 ounces of silver at $0.6940 per ounce. There is no prospect of purchasing the full quota of 4,500,000 ounces of silver this month. Mr. Preston states that the department, if it fails to purchase the full quota this month. will not make up the deficiency next month. That is, if only 2.500,000 ounces of silver purchased this month the department will not purchase the 2,000,000 ounces short this month and the 4,500,000 ounces month, the usual monthly purchase. Each month's purchase will stand by itself, and thus it may happen that at the end of the fiscal year the aggregate purchase instead of being 54,000,000, may be only haif that This is the construction placed upon the Sherman law as to the requirements of silvor purchased, by Secretary Carlisle. As a consequence of short purchases, the amount of coin, or Sherman notes, issued against the silver bullion purchased under the law will, of course, be correspondingly low.

ROBBERS BREAK A BANK.

Loss of Three Thousand Causes the Plainview State Bank to Close.

PLAINVIEW, Neb., July 24.- Special Tere gram to THE BEE. -The Plainview State bank at this place was robbed last night of about $3,000 in cash. In consequence, the bank has closed its doors for the present. J. F. Hecht is president, J. E. Hecht vice presi dent and L. Stone cashier.

Confessed Judgment. Cmcago, July 24.-Parkhurst & Wilkin son, iron merchants, this afternoon confessed judgment in the circuit court in favor of the Continental National bank of Chicago for $87,175, and the sheriff took possession, The firm was one of the best known in the United States, having been established for more than twenty years, and had done busi-ness with the Continental bank for ten years. The company's notes were renewed from time to time. The bank's refusal to further extend the notes within the past few weeks precipitated the confession of judgment. It is believed the concern will be able to resume within a short time.

All Able to Resume. DENVER, July 24.—Bank Examiner Lazar says all the suspended banks here have enough assets to resume in time and that the plan is on foot to get depositors to accept certificates of deposit, payable in install-ments, giving them time to realize on assets and provent enforced liquidation.

chants National balk closed its doors today. A notice signed by the directors, stating that all the depositors will be paid in full, was on the door. The bank held $21,000 city and $32,000 county, and $39,000 state funds. There is no excitement in the city.

WILL BRING HIM TO TIME.

Henry Weil of the New York Stock Exchange to Be Disciplined. New York, July 24 .- The counsel of the law committee of the New York Stock exchange has been requested to formulate and present charges against H. G. Weil for unbusinesslike language and actions detrimental to the best interests of the exchange. Mr. Weil will have his first hearing before the governors on August 4. Weil is the broker who recently refused to take gold in proker who recently refused to take gold in payment for $50,000 government 4 per cent bonds purchased by Harvey Fisk & Sons, but he subsequently changed his mind when Fisk threatened to buy bonds in "under the He is also the hero of the Manhattan Banking company incident of last week. At that time he was credited with the statement that the bank could not furnish him with currency he had deposited. The offi-cials of the bank subsequently denied his statement and ordered him to withdraw his statement and ordered him to withdraw his accounts. The maximum penalty for the offense charged is suspension for one year and the loss of the privileges of the exchange change.

Louisville, July 24.—The Louisville City National bank closed its doors this evening. Since the financial difficulties began the bank has exerted every power to increase its cash resources, but could make little headway against the general stringency. The statement of the bank made July 12, shows resources, including loans and dis-counts, of $1,109,705, with Habilities, outside of the capital stock paid in, which is $400,000, It is hardly probable the bank will resume Three years ago, Pope, its teller, fled with over $70,000, and this was a hard blow to the bank. Depositors will be paid in full. The local banks received over $500,000 from New York this morning and no excitement is by order of the comptroller of the currency,

Refused to Receive Silver. CHICAGO, July 24 .- All day today as the bank employes, carrying sacks of silver coin of all denominations, entered the United States subtreasury, a notice confronted them to the effect that silver would not be received, and they had to trudge back to their banks with their heavy loads.

"There is more silver lying uncounted be-hind the rails of the subtreasury than the force can handle," said an official of the department this afternoon, "On every shelf and in piles on the floor canvas sacks filled with dollars and other coins are stacked up until there is hardly room to get about. We are unable to handle the big amount of silver we have on hand, and until it can be all counted and checked up we will not receive any more over the counter.

Disappeared with the Ledger. MILWAUKEE, July 24 .- John B. Koetting, cashier of the defunct South Side Savings bank, has disappeared from the city, and simultaneously the discovery was made that the general ledger of the institution is not ng the effects of the institution. Presiient Trumpff of the bank says the cashier left Milwaukee last Friday, and before tak-ing his departure left with him (Trumpff) power of attorney to convey his real estate and homestead, worth $50,000, into cash for the benefit of the bank's creditors. ARRIVAL OF THE DEAD GIRL'S MOTHER

Body Will Be Interred in an Iowa Churchyard-Hundreds of People View the Corpse-Her Last Letter Inspired by Rider Haggard's Beatrice.

The remains of Hattie Aldrich, the girl who suicided on Sunday, will be shipped to her home in Iowa by Coroner Maul at 11:30 this morning. The mother of the dead girl arrived from

Mapleton, la., yesterday. The scene at the morgue, when she beheld all that was left of her daughter, was indeed a pitiful one. Her grief knew no bounds, and with a heart bowed with sorrow, she was led away after gazing with a tear-stained face at the re-Mrs. Aldrich wilt accompany the remains

Inspired by Haggard's Beatrice. The exceedingly pathetic letter left by the unfortunate girl, and addressed to Frank Donecken, caused many eyes in Omaha to fill with sympathetic tears vesterday. Men who possessed hearts of oak, where pity seldom nestled, felt choked with emotion at the pitiful eloquence of the communication, written while the hideous skeleton of death looked over the shoulder of the despondent writer.

The letter sounds somewhat familiar to all who have read Rider Haggard's novel entitled "Beatrice." The metaphors are similar and the language possesses the same ring as that embodied in the farewell note which forms a feature of one of the chapters of "Beatrice." Possibly it was an inspiration that formed a striking coincidence. It may have been a sort of semi-plagiarism, but, nevertheless, the last letter of poor, de-voted Hattie Aldrich appealed to many hearts in this city yesterday. Struggled Against Fate.

The history of the girl since she has been in Omaha shows that she has been as much sinned against as she was sinful. Hattie was the elder daughter of a widowed mother who is only in moderate circumstances and whose home is in that pretty rural Iowa village known as Mapleton. Hattie came to Omaha several months ago. and, being somewhat unsophisticated became an easy victim to the oily tongue of a tempter. At one time she was accused of receiving goods stolen from Bell's drug store, but on investigation it was proven that the goods vere given to her as presents from a young clerk who was an admirer. She was not only pretty, but extremely attractive, and a bright conversationalist. She made many friends. Not being used to hard work and being of limited means, she finally yielded to the temptation of a man of means, who supported her for a while. She tired of the life she was leading and the kind hearted police matron, Cumings, secured a place for in a respectable family, where Mrs. had a pleasant home and was respected for her worth. She remained in her new home for two months and then took a room in the Manderson block. It is hinted that she did so at the suggestion of one whom she

Not being able to have the undivided love of the man she loved, she made the sad sacrifice of Sunday evening in order that he might enjoy a greater freedom and not be menaced by her presence on earth. She did not blame him for her troubles and sought relief in the Hundreds of people filled with sympathetic curiosity viewed the remains in the morgue yesterday. The girl had not lost her beauty of feature and form, even in the cold embrace of death. Fully 500 people visited the morgue vesterday to see her. Flowers from a Father.

One touching incident occurred during the afternoon. An elderly, well dressed man with snowy hair, asked permission to lay a handsome bunch of fragrant white flowers on the body. The request was granted, and the old man with moistened eyes withdrew from the gaze of the curious crowd. Attached to the flowers was a card with the following inscription "A Stranger, with sympathy, From a father of an only daughter

A BEE reporter who witnessed this touching tribute hastened after the gentleman asked for an explanation. The refused to give his name said the dead girl reminded very much of his own beloved daughter man who has a happy home in an eastern state. He had read the account of the girl's death in Тив Вки and her plaintive letter had deeply touched him. He wanted to do ething to show his sympathy, and bought the flowers to place on the unfortunate girl's said that he appreciate any such attention to his daughter if cruel fate had decreed the same ending for He was much affected as he thought of how Hattie's mother must feel over her daughter's tragic death. Letters from the girl's mother showed that a deep bond of sympathy existed between the girl and her sorrowing parent. But Hattie had concealed her shame from her dear old mother. The remains will be quietly interred in the silent city of the dead in Mapleton Thurs-day and the last act in the girl's sad career

LOSS OF THE BRITISH SHIP NO ACCIDENT

Such is the Latest Theory Advanced to Account for the Camperdown's Move -Physical Force Men Issue

a Circular Letter.

Latest Version of the Cause of the Terrible

Mediterranean Disaster.

NEW YORK, July 24.-A new and startling theory has been advanced as to the cause of the sinking of the British battle ship Victoria by the Camperdown. Irish revolutionists claim that the sinking of the vessel was the result, not of accident, but of a deep-laid plot, which has for its object the destruction, if possible, of the British navy and the infliction of dire injury on England in every quarter of the globe where her flag flies. A circular copy of the plot, which a morning paper succeeded in obtaining, and which has been promulgated in Irish Nationalist circles, claims for the revolutionists the honor of striking such a heavy blow to England. Referring to Admiral Tryon's maneuver, the circular, which bears date of July 12, says:

"Admiral Tryon is not guilty of the loss of the Victoria. He is a victim of the sins of his country. The maneuver which he proposed the fleet should perform would have been successfully carried out had our brave brothers in England's service not been equal to the opportunity afforded them and given themselves a willing sacrifice for the cause of Ireland. For the better protection of the interests we have at heart, we will not announce whether any of our brothers who were on board the Victoria escaped death in the waters of the Mediterranean. "It is sufficient for you, for the present, to know that a noble deed has been done and that Ireland has still sons for whom death has no terrors when their lives are asked for her sake. The spirit of Emmet still lives and the fight must be carried on until England hauls down her flag in Ireland.

"We have sworn brothers now on almost every English warship. We have them in the English regiments at home and abroad, and wherever the English flag floats there also may our men be found. We are now in a position which we never pefore attained of striking England in every corner of the globe. Thenceforward, brothers, the light must go on unceasingly. No opportunity must be lost of striking England, nor must we hesitate to use against her whatever science and inventive genius may place in our hands. The circular is signed "The Executive" and is thought to emanate from the physical force men. Burned Out This Morning. About 2:40, fire totally destroyed the home of William Davis, 3114 Half Cass, the family barely escaping with their lives.
